Who is the Chocolate Detective?

Chantal Coady OBE, the founder, uses her years of experience and expertise to delve into the world of chocolate sourcing. She aims to take you back to the roots of cocoa and share the most ethical, sustainable, and delectable chocolate available in the market.

Her approach to chocolate is unique; she likes to ask awkward questions such as 'how can we ensure that chocolate is slave-free?' and 'how can we support cocoa farmers and small chocolate makers?' She is passionate about bringing chocolate that is 100% transparent about its origin and supports the people involved in the value chain.

Chantal's commitment to ethical sourcing is reflected in her investment in a small cocoa farm in Grenada, which donates all its beans to the Grenada Chocolate Co. This exceptional business produces farm-to-bar chocolate, and it's a true testament to the values that Chantal holds.

Environmental Statement

- Since the Chocolate Detective started it has been an imperative to avoid the use of plastic unless completely unavoidable.
- We use recycled or recyclable materials wherever possible.
- Our new egg cartons are made from bagasse, a by-product of cane sugar production. The result is an elegant, smooth white board that is food-safe. So we no longer need to line the boxes with tissue, and they are home compostable.
- We are really delighted to have got to the point where we could have this beautiful paper printed, and proud to be working with British company Roach Bridge. Our new black and white tissue paper is printed using water-based inks on the historic mill site at Roach Bridge, harnessing the power of the river Darwen.
- Any clear bags we use to pack the chocolate are made from Natureflex TM which is a wood based home compostable material. They may look like plastic but they are not!
- This area of packaging is evolving and we will be keeping our eyes open for any new innovations.

The Chocolate Detective 12 Cuckoo's Eggs
£12.75/12, chocolatedetective.co.uk

These little eggs in a box are absolutely charming – genius packaging, beautiful colours. A nice thin candy shell. Sweet, but not cloying. This blue one is praline. I'll try the brown – soft caramel. That was a wonderful surprise! Very winning!
